Since that time, that is to say in the year 1853-4, it is believed that the foreign debt has been materially augmented by excessive importations. The excess of importations for the last over the previous year bears no just proportion to the increase of population, and doubtless was far beyond the measure that and doubtless was far beyond the measure that prudence and a proper regard to the wants of the country dictated. by profits on exchanges and errors of valuation.

If these figures are correct, and we believe stocks of articles now on hand and buy and import fewer goods, suspend investments in all railroads not in progress of completion, and adopt a rigid system of economy generally. The prospect of a short crop of corn will render the course importative in the West.

There is nothing in the trade in specie to justify the present stringency of the money market.

The coinage at the mint from 1847 to 1853, each year inclusive, amounted to $248,611,632, of which $17,075,612 was silver, leaving the coinage of gold $231,536,010. What has become of all this specie?

The Treasury reports show that of all this coinage only the sum of $73,389,981 has left the country—this being the amount the exports of specie exceed the important in the period to which we refer.

We estimate that two-thirds or forty-five milions of the amount exported has been replaced by immigrants—the amounts of which introduced into the country in that way not appearing in the custom-bouse returns. The gold received the trade to substance with tremendous force, causing ground and form 2 land and not of places in the year ond many control of the country. This bears are considered by immigrants—the amounts of which introduced into the country in that way not appearing the form the work hourse and the proper for substance with tremendous force, causing greating in the custom-bouse returns. The gold received from California and other places in the year ending 30th June, 1854, probably exceeded opposite the Oakland Race Course, for nearly all grows ash down. This is a de irable location for a retired private residence and we advise those in want of such property to attend the sale. Doubtless a great bargain will be had. Mr. Spencer also sells a large lot of glassware, groceries, and figures at his auction-rooms this morning at 10 o'clock.

We learn from the Lebanot (Teth.) Herald that $40,000 worth of stock have already been subscribed with a view to the reb ling of the factory, and there are fair prospects of the remaining $35,000 being shortly subscribed.
